

ICCG-3 Marseille, 1972

REPORT ON THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ICCG-3 GENERAL ASSEMBLY (MARSEILLE) AND THE INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATION OF CRYSTAL GROWTH (IOCG)

1. Constitution

In order to implement a decision made at ICCG-2 Birmingham in 1968, two draft constitutions - a long version of American origin and a short version of European origin - were submitted by postal ballot to participants of ICCG-1 Boston and ICCG-2 Birmingham. The vote was concluded in April 1971 by M. Schieber and A. D. McQuillan with the following results: Long version - 146 votes, Short version - 129 votes.

In view of a decision reached by IOCG (formerly Comité International de Croissance Cristalline) at Zurich in September 1970, the long version was adopted until the close of ICCG-3 Marseille. In order to ameliorate difficulties presented by the strong divided opinions of the supporters of the two different versions of the Constitution, a compromise was reached at Marseille by which a revised version of the long Constitution was declared valid and in force until the closure of ICCG-4. Briefly, the revised version deletes all mention of dues or fees to be paid to the IOCG, but maintains most other concepts. Also, it was decided that a new Subcommittee for Constitution be appointed to search for further improvements (see paragraph 4 of this report).
